Personal & Administrative Documents

All foreign documents must be translated to Spanish and apostilled

- Criminal record certificate (apostilled and translated)
- Medical certificate (issued within 3 months, health screening)
- Private health insurance (full coverage, no copay, valid in Spain)
- Proof of accommodation in Spain (rental contract or property deed)
- Two recent passport photos (white background, 3x4cm)
- Completed visa application form
- Proof you haven't been a Spanish resident in the last 5 years

Income Requirements: The Digital Nomad Visa requires €33,150/year minimum income (200% of SMI). This must be verifiable through payslips, contracts, or tax returns.

After Approval

- Enter Spain within 90 days of visa approval
- Apply for TIE card (within 30 days of arrival)
- Register on padrón (empadronamiento)
- Apply for Beckham Law within 6 months (if eligible for tax benefits)
- Register with Social Security as an employee or self-employed (autónomo)
- Open Spanish bank account
- Get digital certificate for tax/business purposes

Beckham Law Bonus: Foreign workers may qualify for special tax treatment (non-resident status) for 4 years. Apply within 6 months of arrival through a gestoría.

Pro Tips for Digital Nomads

- Ensure your employment contract explicitly permits remote work from Spain
- Non-EU citizens must apply from outside Spain; EU citizens can apply at immigration office
- Keep detailed records of hours worked and client communications as proof of activity
- The visa is valid for 2 years and renewable
- Consider joining Spain's freelancer union (colegio profesional) for additional benefits
- Start the Beckham Law application process 5 months after arrival
- Digital tools and SaaS subscriptions often count as legitimate business expenses
- Register as autónomo if you're self-employed to access Spanish social benefits
